

Chester Police Deny Brutality

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Mayor James H. Gorbey of Chester and the city police department Friday night denied accusations of police brutality made by the leader of the National Urban League.

Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the league, said in New York Thursday night:

"On April 12, in Chester, Pa., 50 state troopers marched into the Negro slums at the conclusion of one demonstration and black-jacked every Negro citizen in sight."

"Right in front of the television cameras, police ran down innocent men and women, crying, 'There's one! Get him! And one so-called representative of justice even clubbed a pregnant woman in the stomach.'"

Gorbey and the Chester police issued this joint reply:

"His (Young's) information is completely incorrect. The charges are unfounded and without basis of fact. All of the allegations that he has made can be disproved if he would take the trouble and the time to make an investigation before he makes such rash statements."

Methodist Raps Bible Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Protestant theologian said Friday a "corrupt alliance of vicious politics and low-grade culture-religion" is attacking American constitutional liberties.

Dr. Franklin H. Littell, a Methodist minister and a professor at Chicago Theological Seminary, denounced what he described as "this alliance of pious hypocrisy and public wickedness" in urging the House Judiciary Committee to reject a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit religious exercises in the public schools.

HST Speechless In U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 30-year-old with a red nose in his button hole went through a round of birthday festivities Friday—and only once did he choke up.

That was when the octogenarian, Harry S. Truman, visiting old buddies in the Senate, was invited to make a speech from the floor. The invitation was a historic first. It was only last year that the Senate passed a resolution permitting ex-presidents to address the chamber in official session.

"I was filled up," he explained at a birthday luncheon later at the National Press Club. "If they had cussed me out, I would have known what to do."

Svenson Faces Court Martial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Antonia N. Svenson said Friday she has written her son, Army Capt. Alfred Svenson, to "pray, pray, pray, pray. Thank God you are out of their hands."

Svenson, 31, defected to the East German Communists last year. He was returned Thursday night.

"Last year was such a horrible Mother's Day," Mrs. Svenson said. "This Mother's Day I can go to church and pray a thanksgiving prayer."

U.S. officials said Svenson, a former resident of Scranton, Pa., will be court-martialed for desertion and possibly for betraying military secrets.

Tornado Kills 11 In Michigan

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—Eleven persons were killed and at least 50 injured late Friday when a tornado that roared like a giant vacuum cleaner swept across southeastern Michigan.

Gov. George W. Romney immediately left the Republican State Convention at Grand Rapids on the other side of the state to go to the disaster area.

Stock Market Slips Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Routine profit taking nipped the stock market rally midway through its sixth straight session and prices ended irregularly lower Friday.

Volume slipped to 4.93 million shares from Thursday's 5.6 million and was the lightest since April 28 when 4.82 million shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which showed a gain of 1.33 at mid-session, closed with a net loss of 1.6 at 828.57. (Stock List on Page 15.)

Insured Passenger Shot Crash Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI investigation has determined that a passenger on the Pacific Airlines plane that crashed Thursday near San Francisco, killing 44 persons, took out a substantial insurance policy on himself and apparently shot at least one member of the crew.

Informed sources said Friday night that the owner of a powerful Magnum revolver found in the plane wreckage also had taken out shortly before the flight an insurance policy in excess of $50,000 on himself.

The FBI laboratory, it was learned, has determined that the revolver found in the plane's wreckage in the foothills of Contra Costa County, 40 miles east of San Francisco, held six empty cartridges which had been fired recently.

Pilot Shot
The sources confirmed earlier reports that a tape recorder found in the wreckage carried the pilot's voice, crying: "My God, I've been shot!"

The sources refused to identify either the owner of the revolver or the beneficiary of the policy, except to say that the owner of the revolver was a man.

The FBI apparently still is checking on insurance policies taken out by passengers on the ill-fated plane. But, the sources said, early indications are that the policy taken out by the owner of the pistol was the largest of those aboard the plane.

However, Deputy Coroner Mel Whalin said he had showed FBI men the human bone fragment with the hole.

Whalin said the bone was not a skull, but would not say what sort of human bone it was.

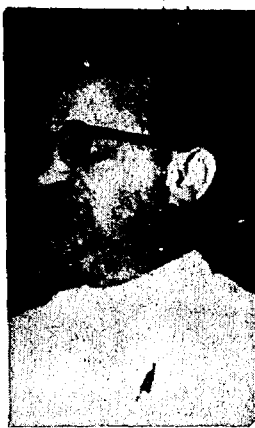

It was among the grisly bits of human remains scattered over the rural scene where the Pacific Airlines plane went down shortly before 7 a.m. Thursday.

The Fairchild turboprop plane was en route from Reno, Nev., to San Francisco. The airline and this type of plane both had remarkable safety records.

Before the deputy coroner's disclosure and the NBC report, FBI agents and deputies with hand magnets scoured the field where the crash took place, especially in the area where the pistol was found.

It was reported that part of the hammer of the Smith & Wesson revolver was missing. There was speculation that they were seeking this missing piece.

Pistol Loaded
Reports at the scene Thursday said the pistol was loaded. The FBI declined, however, to say if it had been fired.

Parke W. Unangst

Unangst Wins GOP Position

STROUDSBURG — In a close reversal, Parke W. Unangst won the Republican primary for state committee by 15 unofficial votes after the absentee ballots were counted by the election board yesterday.

Before the absentees were counted, Mary Fontanella, Unangst's opponent in the intra-party battle, led by 11 votes, with 1,511 to 1,500 votes for Unangst.

No official totals were made yesterday. The election board said that official totals would be certified Monday.

"I expected to win," was Unangst's comment after his margin swelled to 15 votes.

In other close contests, Robert Quinn leads John Nauman by one vote for Barrett Twp. Republican committeewoman with all the votes counted, but as yet unofficial.

Another reversal took place in Stroudsburg's third ward. After the county primary returns were in, Hattie Godshall led Kathryn Kitchen six votes to five, for committeewoman. However, three absentee ballots were marked for Kitchen, and she was the winner, 8-6.

Genevieve Blatt, Democratic campaigner for U.S. Senator, picked up 17 primary votes among absentee ballots while her opposition, Judge Michael Musmanno, totalled 11 tallies.

This brings the unofficial Monroe County ballots for Blatt to 2,675, and for Musmanno to 772.

According to Mrs. Lovell Banks of the commissioner's office, 77 civilian ballots were sent out — 33 Democrat and 42 GOP — and 75 were returned. A total of 47 military ballots were sent out — 33 GOP and 14 Democrat — and 37 were returned.

Some absentee ballots were thrown out because the names of the voters were printed, not signed.

Atty. Kennard Lewis of East Stroudsburg was designated by Miss Genevieve Blatt to oversee the counting of her absentee ballots.

1st Absentee Ballots Put Blatt Ahead

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Genevieve Blatt's lead over Justice Michael A. Musmanno jumped to 3,787 Friday as the absentee ballot count got started in their contest for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator.

With all but three precincts tabulated, the unofficial count of regular votes had left Miss Blatt, the state secretary of internal affairs with a margin of 2,521.

The official count, including absentee ballots, was reported Friday from only 15 counties. Nine counties have reported their official tally, but without the absentee ballots tabulated.

The state's 67 counties are unofficial, but used as a basis for the Blatt-Musmanno tally so as to provide an official-unofficial count as of the moment.

Regular Vote Jump
Miss Blatt's biggest jump Friday came in Venango County, where correction of a reporting error gave her more than 1,000 votes. The unofficial count in Venango was 897 for Blatt and 804 for Musmanno. The official count Friday, including absentee ballots, was 1,903 for Blatt and 762 for Musmanno—a difference of 1,048 in Blatt's favor over the unofficial figures.

Philadelphia, Lackawanna, Allegheny and Luzerne, four counties which went heavily for Musmanno, were not included in the official regular vote returns or absentee ballot count.

Clark Hits Dam Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., urged Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Friday to agree to development of recreational facilities at the Allegheny River Reservoir by the Forest Service.

He cautioned against what he called a "petty bureaucratic dispute" over jurisdiction of federal agencies in conservation and resource matters.

These disputes, Clark said in a letter to McNamara, do the public interest no good.

The Army Engineers are building a dam at Kinzua, Pa., which will back up a reservoir almost to Salamanca, N. Y.

The Interior Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation recommended recently that the Forest Service take over the responsibility for recreational development of the reservoir.

The Army has withheld comment on the proposal pending a study.

Tocks Similarity
Forest Service responsibility of the reservoir would be in line with a recommendation by the state which has also suggested development of recreation at the proposed Tocks Island Reservoir on the Delaware River by the National Park Service and at the proposed Raystown Reservoir in the Juniata River Basin by the Army Engineers.

In his letter to McNamara, Clark said the Army Engineers could develop recreational activities not only at Raystown but also at the Tionesta and Youngbushen reservoirs.

Clark said the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation was established by Congress to resolve jurisdictional problems of this kind.

"I hope very much that the Department of Defense will see fit to agree to this recommendation," the senator added. "... We should do our best to encourage this new bureau in this very important function."

He said the policy conflicts which have developed over the years between federal agencies over conservation and resource policy do a disservice to the public interest.

"Believing as I do in the great competence of the federal establishment, I would hate to see us drawn into a petty bureaucratic dispute for no good reason."

J. Edgar Hoover

Hoover Celebrates 40 Years In FBI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tributes showered on J. Edgar Hoover Friday as he rounded out 40 years as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The 69-year-old FBI chief will reach the compulsory government retirement age of 70 next Jan. 1, but President Johnson is expected to issue an executive order waiving the requirement in his case.

Hoover's aides say he keeps himself in top physical condition and he shows no sign of being ready to step down.

The Senate took note of Hoover's four decades as top G-man by adopting unanimously a resolution praising his service to the country.

The resolution was presented by Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., dean of the Senate, who recalled that Hoover came to him after his appointment in 1924 and asked for help in getting funds to establish a fingerprint identification service.

At his office, where aides said Hoover carried on "just another day of business," the FBI director was presented with a life-size bronze bust by the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI.

Next came officers of the FBI National Academy Associates, who presented him with a ring, cuff links and tie clip. The officers represent the 4,500 law enforcement officers around the world who have graduated from the FBI's special training school since 1945.

The indictment charges that Young "did feloniously, in the law, procure, aid, counsel, hire and command" the other defendants "to kill and murder" Sen. Welton.

It alleges the conspiracy started Feb. 20 and culminated with the shooting and wounding of Mrs. Welton. She was hit in the back and head. The wounds were slight and treated at home by her husband, a doctor.

The indictment charges that the conspiracy included an attempt by a man to force his way into Mrs. Welton's house during the day of March 26. He fled when she screamed and slammed the door.

Sen. Welton in her reaction statement noted that she and Young have belonged to opposing Democratic factions in their 4th Baltimore District.

Young could not be located in advance of appearing for a bail hearing for which no time has been set.

President, In South, Asks Racial Justice

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Half a million Georgians poured into the streets Friday to cheer President Johnson before he wound up a politically profitable trip through poverty-stricken Appalachia.

Johnson strongly appealed for racial justice and rejection of extremism and "the hatred and discredited banners of the past."

The massive reception in Georgia's capital for the President climaxed a whirlwind behind—schedule, handshaking tour of six states in the Johnson war on poverty.

He spoke to hundreds of thousands, collected two Bengal tiger cubs, picked up a beagle bound—but not by the ears—and shook countless hands in Atlanta.

Crowds lining the 8-mile motorcade route from a downtown hotel to the airport were estimated at 500,000 by Police Chief Herbert Jenkins.

From Atlanta, Johnson traveled by helicopter to Gainesville in northeast Georgia for the final phase of his trip. He got a rousing welcome on a smaller scale there.

A 12-year-old hero, Charles Overby, welcomed the President to Gainesville. Overby won the Carnegie Medal for heroism for saving another youngster from being struck by a train.

Then Johnson visited with several elderly white women on the porch of their home and a Negro couple at their home and before again urging racial equality in a speech at Roosevelt Square.

"Full participation in our society can no longer be denied to men because of their race, religion or region," he said.

Recalling a visit of President Franklin D. Roosevelt to the city in 1938, Johnson said: "If Franklin Roosevelt were standing on this square today, he would say that America must go forward with compassion and justice for all—or it cannot go forward at all."

Johnson said he wanted a government of compassion and he pledged to carry forward his war against poverty and discrimination.

This reiterated his speech in Atlanta where he drew applause from an audience that included state legislators.

"I believe Georgia will join with the entire nation to insure that every man enjoys all the rights secured to him by the Constitution," he said there.

During his motorcade through Atlanta, Johnson had the procession halted, climbed up on the trunk of his open car and spoke to the crowds through a megaphone.

Cuban Exiles Ready New Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increasing signs appeared Friday that anti-Communist Cubans plan commando-type raids and other attacks on Castro Cuba at any time within the next 12 days.

Exile groups here and in Florida buzzed with excitement. There was talk that something could happen at any moment.

Various exile leaders have pledged they will be fighting Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship on Cuban soil before May 20, that country's independence anniversary.

Asked about this forecast, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey restated the official U.S. opposition to hit-and-run raids.

In some U.S. cities, there were reports that numbers of young Cubans, particularly those with military backgrounds were strangely absent. Their countrymen said they believe they have entered training camps in recent weeks, reportedly in Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

Three major action groups of Cuban exiles, some with active underground cells in Cuba, are reported ready to attack.

A year ago Manuel Ray, leader of one of the anti-Castro groups, pledged he would be fighting Fidel. His former lieutenant, before May 20, to a secret meeting of some exile leaders in Miami this week Ray, Los Angeles, 000 000 000-0 5 1 reaffirmed the pledge. It was San Fran. 001 011 00X-3 6 1

3 Monroe Schools Keep Baccalaureate

By JEFF CON Daily Record Reporter
STROUDSBURG — Three of four Monroe County school districts checked with their solicitors on the advisability of holding baccalaureate services this year, and were given a green light.

The fourth—East Stroudsburg Jointure—does not hold a baccalaureate service at the time of graduation.

The questioning was prompted by the Supreme Court ruling on Bible reading in public schools. Some lawyers have interpreted the decision to mean that baccalaureate services would also be outlawed.

Religious Service
A baccalaureate service is primarily a religious service, usually with an invocation, sermon, and benediction.

Last week Dr. Lefroy J. Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State College, called a one-year moratorium on baccalaureate services for the school.

Dr. Koehler said that the board of presidents of the 14 state colleges was told the services could not be held on the campus of a state college by Walter Alessandro, state attorney general.

East Stroudsburg Joint School avoided the problem, before it knew there would be a problem.

"We haven't had baccalaureate services since we moved into the new high school. We have one ceremony Sunday afternoon for commencement and we felt that was all that was needed," Carl Secor, supervising principal of the jointure said.

Earl F. Gomer, superintendent of Stroud Union, said that the school will hold a service this year. He said that the school had checked with its solicitors, Arlington W. and Edward L. Williams, some time ago and that the go-ahead had been given.

Arlington Williams, Stroud Union solicitor, gave his reasoning for allowing the service:

"The Supreme Court has not said that baccalaureate services are illegal. We feel, of course, that decisions of the court should be honored and respected in relation to matters passed upon."

"Until there is a decision which extends the meaning of the Bible reading decision beyond its present limits, we see no reason to discontinue the services."

The supreme objective of life is laying up treasure in heaven. Thus, everything we do, in our labor and leisure, should be for the sake of the kingdom of God.—Matthew 6:33.

The need for rest from daily routine is as important today as it was in Jesus' time, when He made His disciples rest their tired bodies and minds periodically.—Mark 6:30-32.

Paul warns against using leisure time in unholy pursuits. Our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit and are not to be immorally used.—I Corinthians 6:12-14, 19, 20.

To be strong in God's presence, we should let right, in all its practical, noble forms, be the subject of our thoughts.—Philippians 4:8.

GOLDEN TEXT: I Corinthians 10:31.

Today's Lesson:

The Christian And Leisure

By R. H. RAMSEY

Of all the objectives we have in life there is only one that will last throughout life, bringing continued joy in this life and the life to come. That is doing everything for the sake of the kingdom of God.

This is the primary objective of life: Laying not up on earth, but laying up in heaven. And this means doing, and doing, only those things which are in harmony with God's righteousness, that would meet with His fullest approval; a true yielding to God's will, asking Him to make the longing real and deep and abiding in us. Thus, every area of our complicated existence — our labor and our leisure — becomes unified, with one supreme objective.

Jesus stresses the need for rest from our daily routine in the assigned verses from Mark. Prior to this time, Jesus and His disciples had been teaching in the synagogue and healing the sick, followed by the same minister in surrounding villages. Then Jesus sent the disciples forth in pairs to do a similar work. Thus, for some time, Christ and the disciples had been engaged in a considerable period of hard work. There had been much coming and going, with little time for leisure.

When the disciples had gathered once more, Jesus takes them with Him to a separate place where they rest a while. This was not a rest for their bodies alone; it was a rest for their tired minds. Jesus was very much aware that, without periodic rest, a nervous collapse could occur. How much more necessary is this need for rest today, what with the abnormal speed at which we work and the pressures of modern living.

What we do with our leisure depends largely upon our tastes, financial means and the amount of time we have. Obviously, if we are to follow Christ's admonition to do everything for the sake of the kingdom of God, we are not to spend our leisure time in unholy pursuits. Paul is most specific on this point in his first letter to the Corinthians. Of all the cities he ministered to on his missionary journeys, none was so immoral as Corinth. It was completely given over to the worship of Aphrodite, the goddess of sexual love, and its very atmosphere for centuries was saturated with the degrading practices attendant to the worship of the goddess. Inevitably, this situation drew repeated rebuke and discipline from Paul.

Although every morally indifferent thing is as lawful for Paul as it is for the layman, he does not indulge himself because he has dedicated his life and body to Christ. So, too, the Corinthian Christians. Their bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, instruments for the service of God and, as such, should not be misused through immorality. We were all bought with a price, he warns, the blood of Christ. And because we have been redeemed at such a price, we should glorify God, honoring Him with our bodies and our service.

In the eighth verse, fourth chapter of Paul's letter to the Philippians, we have one of the loftiest statements of man's mental life to be found in all literature, with objectives we may well continue to seek as long as we live.

The reference is to those things which correspond with the deep, unchanging truths of the moral universe.

Parson To Parson

by Roderick MacLeod

What—Me Help?

This is the city. A man walking just ahead of you falls down in front of you. He needs help. You step over his inert form and continue on your way. Let someone else help, why get involved?

This is the city. A few short months ago in Queens, N.Y., a woman was murdered in plain view of 80 or more spectators. Her pitiful cries went unheeded as a knife was plunged again, and again into her body. No one offered to help!

This is the city. Headlines this week describe the plight of a 19-year-old telephone operator who was raped in her office, and then ran screaming for help, naked through office building halls. Forty persons watched as her attacker ran after her, wrapped his jacket around her, and tried to force her back upstairs. Not one came to her aid. They waited for police to arrive, and left the job to them.

It is all too true that often people offering a "helping hand" wind up being sued or falsely accused of criminal acts. A man driving along a lonely road stops to aid a woman change a tire and the woman later charges him with assault.

Some people make a racket of ensuring a "good Samaritan" strike sinking fangs into the innocent.

To the cautious, those in need of help would never receive it. To me, it is far better to help a hundred unworthy people rather than take a chance of ignoring one in desperate need.

help and not even knowing it. There are folks we rub elbows with, unaware there is a God and that they are in danger of Hell-fire. . . . Unaware that there is salvation free for the asking if they will only ask.

We are too unconcerned about our brother. Yet we are our brother's keeper. Would you not want your brother if he were about to tread upon a rattlesnake unaware? Why then, do we hesitate to warn of things to come that have been revealed by Holy Writ?

This is the city. If we cannot help each other and show a little love for each other then it is no better than a jungle. In fact a jungle would be better because animals are far kinder to each other than people.

What staggers the imagination is the fact that two horrible crimes have been committed in plain view of over a hundred. The main reason that aid was refused was simply that they did not want to become involved in an unpleasant situation. Now, in these two cases there was no "trap". The two women needed help.

Should there be reason for doubt in a situation then I can understand "passing by".

When help is needed, there is no substitute. We should care more for the well being of those around us. Whether it be relative, friend or stranger, it's well being is related to our own. We cannot be truly happy until we walk in the way of the Lord as Christ has taught in love.

This is the city, the country, or deep in the woods, where ever you are you can help some one, some way.

Will you answer the call by a curt "What?—me help?"

Church-Related Colleges Re-Evaluate Their Programs

By MARGARET WILSON

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Church-related colleges and seminaries, faced with the questions raised by the space age, are re-evaluating their programs to improve the teaching of Christianity.

"It is not an easy period for persons or institutions responsible for such teaching," said Dr. W. Arthur Kale of Duke University Divinity School, a Methodist institution in Durham, N.C. "Christian faith teaches that man's potential is not limited to planet earth," Dr. Kale said. "Its founder proclaimed the reality of a 'kingdom not of this world' and the space age may open new ways to interpret that kingdom to the mind of man."

Religion courses, although not changed in basic content, sometimes have a new emphasis and relate religion to sociological, ethical and moral problems of today.

The Rev. Cuthbert E. Allen of Belmont Abbey College, a Roman Catholic institution at Belmont, N.C., said courses have become more intensified and more practical.

Courses the freshman year give a "rational basis of faith," Father Cuthbert said. "We attempt a rational, reasonable explanation of doctrines, rather than giving a theological approach."

Dr. Thomas A. Bland of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary at Wake Forest, N.C., said man's ultimate and basic problems remain the same even in the space age.

But he added: "If Christian theology is to meet modern man's needs, it must find words and ideas he understands to make its ancient and changeless message clear."

Dr. Daniel D. Rhodes of Presbyterian-affiliated Davidson College at Davidson, N.C., was not sure that teaching of religion had changed.

"But both teaching and preaching must apply to current principles to be relevant to any age," Dr. Rhodes said. He said comparative religion courses are more necessary now that the "world is shrunken and various religions are rubbing together."

Pentagon Helps Sister

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When Sister Miriam Theresa seeks to help the boys at Bishop Hartley High School, where she is assigned, even the 'Pentagon may be called in.

Working with the help of Lockbourne Air Force Base and the Automobile Dealers Association of Columbus, the nun had arranged for tools, advice and space for the boys to work on cars and learn automobile mechanics.

But then the space was needed again by the owner. So she began negotiations with Air Force Reserve officials for a building at Port Columbus Airport.

Earthquake Victims Move Into Homes

ONE hundred and twenty-five American churches to Skopje, Yugoslavian families of Skopje who lost their homes in the shattering earthquake last July have moved into sturdy, attractive new houses provided in part by gifts from U. S. churches.

The new dwellings were built under the supervision of a team of volunteer construction specialists from the U.S. and Canada. In an impressive dedication held at the site of the homes — a hillside area called Trnopolje on the rim of Skopje — each occupant family received keys and a letter of welcome signed by Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, who presided at the ceremony.

Hans Harald Lund, Church World Service representative in Yugoslavia, was coordinator of the housing project. He was elected during the ceremony as "the driving force" behind the venture by Dr. Leslie Cooke, director of the WCC Division of Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service.

U.S. Protestant denominations following the quake. Joined others around the world in responding to a WCC appeal for funds for housing. The total gift channeled through Church World Service was $101,753. Of this amount, $93,394 was contributed to the cost of houses. The balance provided tents, blankets and water purification tablets rushed to the scene immediately after the disaster.

Church World Service also made arrangements for the services of volunteer construction specialists, three from the Church of the Brethren and three from the Mennonite Church in the U.S. and Canada who gave sixty days service on the construction site.

The team helped erect 97 of the total of 125 prefabricated houses, being obliged by delivery delays to leave the construction of the balance to a Brethren team from Austria.

Occupants of the houses were chosen by an independent local committee with church, city, Red Cross and welfare agency representation. Criteria were urgency of need, suffering experienced at the time of the quake, and family size.

A total of 581 men, women and children will be sheltered in the newly built houses.

Making Community Chest Budget Man-Size Chore

STROUDSBURG — How is the Monroe County Community Chest set?

The adoption of the 1964-65 budget of $115,770 by the directors of the Community Chest and Council this week was the culmination of many man hours of soul-searching on the part of the agencies themselves, the social planning committee and the budget committee.

Each agency presents its budget in hearings before both the social planning committee and the budget committee who then make their recommendations to the board of directors.

The basic criteria of increased or improved service to the county must also take into account salary increases necessary to retain personnel and the general rise in costs, which in turn must be balanced against the willingness of residents of the county to pay for those services in the final total.

The process is evident in the chart of budget requests, recommendations and final approval listed below:

MONROE COUNTY COMMUNITY CHEST AND COUNCIL Budget Requests and Recommendations 1963-64-65

Pen Argyl Interim Committee

How Balloting Took Shape

PEN ARGYL — The interim operating committee of Pen Argyl Area Schools was elected Thursday night with only two minor delays.

Pen Argyl merged into the single unit plan via approval of the Northampton School County School District. Reorganized were Pen Argyl, Plainfield Twp. and Wind Gap School Boards.

On the first ballot for a member from Plainfield Twp. board, to serve until the first Monday in December 1965, none of the candidates received eight votes, the required number to elect a member to the committee. A second ballot was then taken.

The winner of the second ballot was Harold DeWalt. He received six votes on the first ballot and nine on the second ballot.

Another delay came on the second ballot for a member from Plainfield Twp. board to be elected to serve until the first Monday in December 1965.

Ernest Florey, William Pfeffer, and Robert Stratton were nominated. Stratton and Florey declined the nomination leaving Pfeffer the only candidate for the election.

Pfeffer asked Raymond Todd, Northampton County Superintendent of Schools, and chairman of the convention, what would happen if he too declined the nomination.

After a brief discussion, Stratton asked it would be proper for him to withdraw his motion to decline.

Todd said, "I think the proper thing, as long as you are willing to accept the nomination, is to have Pfeffer decline the nomination and we'll then ask for a nomination for candidates from Plainfield Twp. and hold another ballot."

Rather Have Opposition

Pfeffer told the convention that he felt it would not be proper for him to be the only candidate for the position. "It might give someone the impression that the entire thing was a put-up, I would rather have opposition and lose than to win the set under these conditions," he said.

Pfeffer declined the nomination and again Todd called for nominations of candidates for the post.

Florey, Pfeffer and Stratton were nominated again, and again Florey declined the nomination. A ballot was taken and Pfeffer, with nine votes, was declared the winner.

In all other ballots a candidate was elected on the first ballot.

One of the procedures used in the convention to elect members to the committee was, "Names of incumbent school board members shall be placed in nomination for membership on the interim operating committee by members of the school board in which the nominee holds membership. The names of all eligible board members on a given board shall be placed in nomination by a member of the board."

Election shall be by written ballot for each position on the interim operating committee. Such ballot shall be held immediately following nominations for each position. A minimum of eight votes shall be required to elect an incumbent school board member to the interim operating committee. Balloting on each position shall continue until this majority is reached."

Three From Each District

At a previous meeting the joint board agreed that there would be three members from each participating school district in the jointure elected to the interim committee.

The balloting was as follows: For a member to serve until the first Monday in December

Open Doors Cools Woman Into Suit

STROUDSBURG — A Stroudsburg woman has claimed that her neighbor maliciously left doors open in their apartment house and caused her serious illness and is suing the neighbor for damages in excess of $10,000.

G. Margaret Miller, who lives in the first floor apartment at 804 Main St., Stroudsburg, brought suit against Olivia Dreher, who lives in the second floor apartment in the building.

The suit was filed by the plaintiff's attorney, Edwin Krawitz, in the office of Frank Smith, Monroe County prothonotary.

The suit contends: That the plaintiff has for a long time suffered from bronchial asthma, sinusitis, tracheobronchitis, emphysema, and is sensitive to drafts of air.

That the plaintiff repeatedly asked Miss Dreher to keep the front and rear door of the building and the second floor door, closed to prevent drafts.

That Miss Dreher "willfully and purposefully blocked said doors to keep them open when not in use."

The plaintiff's condition was thus aggravated and intensified.

On June 18, 1963, Miss Dreher had the plaintiff arrested for disorderly conduct and the charge was subsequently dismissed — thereafter Miss Dreher "purposefully, intentionally, and maliciously" kept the doors open.

As a result, plaintiff was stricken with pneumonia on July 22, 1963, and was admitted to the Wilkes-Barre Veterans' Hospital, where she stayed until October 14, 1963.

The plaintiff underwent medical care, hospital costs, and the following operations: A thoracentesis, two bronchoscopies, and a tube thoracotomy. She also lost earnings, the suit claims.

The plaintiff thus asks damages in excess of $10,000.

$16,500 Settlement In $600,000 Suit

SCRANTON — A $600,000 civil suit ended yesterday with a $16,500 settlement. The case had been before Federal Judge William J. Nealon and a jury in federal court at Scranton.

According to counsel, the settlement involves payment of $12,000 to the estate of Mrs. Geraldine Uddin and $4,500 for injuries to the minor child, Lorraine Maury Gerard, the later payment to be adjudicated under New Jersey law.

The action stemmed from a two-car accident on Rt. 61, near Delaware Water Gap, Monroe County, on July 2, 1962. Mrs. Uddin and her unborn child, were killed, injuries were suffered by daughter, Lorraine.

Plaintiff in the case was Atty. James D'Angelo of Wilmington, Del. as administrator of the estate of Lorraine Gerard and as guardian for the minor child.

An unusual part of the original action in which D'Angelo also sued as administrator of the unborn child was dismissed. Judge Nealon ruled there was no cause for action.

Defendants in the original suit and a parallel action Rahan R. Uddin Bellmorun, N.J., husband of the dead woman, and Daniel P. Abelloff, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Abelloff of Stroudsburg.

Abelloff is a student at the University of Miami, Miami, Fla., and was operator of one of the cars involved in the accident. Uddin was the driver of the second car.

Up Manhole Cover Snaps Car Wheel

STROUDSBURG — A one car accident occurred yesterday at 12:30 pm on Rt. 61 at Arlington Heights when a north-bound station wagon hit a raised manhole cover.

H. W. Tebb, Stroud Twp. chief of police, identified the driver of the car as Mrs. Mabel C. Ulrich, 62, of Tannersville.

The impact caused the left front wheel to snap off. Mrs. Ulrich swerved off the highway to avoid collision with another vehicle, police said.

Mrs. Ulrich complained of leg injuries. She said she would see a doctor in Tannersville.

Allentown Man Held In Murder

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — William H. Cressman, 29, was arrested Friday night on charges of murder and involuntary manslaughter in the suffocation of a four-month-old girl who authorities said was his daughter.

The child was found dead Wednesday, and authorities said an autopsy Friday indicated she died of a partially collapsed lung.

Dist. Atty. George J. Joseph of Lehigh County said that Cressman, in a statement, admitted that he placed the child face down in an overstuffed living room chair and pushed its head between a seat cushion and the side of the chair to stop it from crying.

Race Crisis Target For Educators

BOILING SPRINGS, Pa. (AP) — Human relations experts looked to education Thursday as the only solution to the explosive racial tensions plaguing Pennsylvania and the nation.

"Unless we learn to live together, we're through," declared Max Birnbaum, education consultant for the American Jewish Committee's Institute of Human Relations.

Dr. Kenneth D. Benne, director of the Human Relations Center at Boston University, said it's up to educators to find ways of building community understanding and support in the battle for civil rights.

Both spoke at a news conference preceding the start of a special three-day seminar on drawing some 100 Pennsylvania school administrators.

"Awareness of self is the first step in dealing with human relations," noted another expert, Dr. J. Alfred Cannon, associate director of the Division of Social and Community Psychiatry at UCLA.

All agreed that the recent racial uprisings in Chester, Pa., "should be a warning to all to get ready for what still may be coming—unless the people are educated."

"We don't have a magic panacea," said Birnbaum. "We're under the gun. We must determine how to change adult attitudes."

Birnbaum, Benne, Cannon and Dr. Don A. Orton, president of Mass., are serving as the faculty for the seminar.

Bamboo can grow as much as three feet a day.

For PV Manor Work

Commissioners Act On $100,000 Switch

STROUDSBURG — The Monroe County Commissioners yesterday noted satisfactory progress on work at the new addition to Pleasant Valley Manor by moving to transfer $100,000 of a total loan of $350,000 into the building fund from the Northeastern Pennsylvania National Bank and Trust Co.

The commissioners had taken the loan to pay for a $500,000 addition to the manor which is under construction.

They moved to ask the bank to put the money into the building account to start meeting building expenses. The commissioners expect to get the remainder of the money from the state and federal governments.

In other business, custodian Charles Shimer told the board that a voting machine was used in a civics class at Pocono Mountain Joint High School and that of the 773 children who mock-voted, only one became confused.

The board heard a letter from Atty. James Scanlon asking whether it would be necessary to bring witnesses to a May 25 tax hearing for the camp, when the witnesses already testified Dec. 20, 1963.

According to solicitor Russell Mervine, it would be permissible to draw up a resume of the testimony given at the December hearing, when no action was taken.

To Assess Camps

C. A. Nauman, chief assessor, said that for the coming tax year, he would assess the taxes in the county for their unused land and wait to see if any appeals were filed.

Mrs. Catherine Miller and Marvin Abel of the Civil Defense office asked the commissioners to approve three change orders in building plans for the new CD offices under construction in the courthouse basement.

No immediate action was taken.

Two Injured In Accident Of Truck, Car On Rt. 196

STROUDSBURG — Two persons were taken to the General Hospital of Monroe County yesterday at 2:35 p.m. for treatment of injuries received in an accident on Rt. 196 one and a half miles north of Analomink.

The injured persons were identified by Stroud Twp. police as Judy Marie Whitmore, 25, of Canadensis, and Stanley Konawalik, 48, of 1722 Quentin Rd., Stroudsburg.

Whitmore received a broken jaw and head concussion. Konawalik required stitches in the lower right leg, police said.

The north-bound car collided with the truck. Then the car crashed through the front of C. A. Nauman's Sporting Goods Store, police said.

The car is estimated a total loss. Extensive damage is estimated to the truck, police said. The store damage amounted to $4,000 to $5,000, according to an insurance agent. The agent said the car crashed through the plate glass window and knocked over four display cases. Electrical wiring was also damaged, he said.

Wayne Tavern Ordered Closed

HARRISBURG — The State Liquor Control Board yesterday ordered the Olde Wayne County House in Hawley closed for ten days.

The LCB suspended the license for permitting minors to frequent and sales to minors. The Olde Wayne County House is owned by Joseph L. and Margaret A. Menotti.

GRAVE DECORATIONS FOR BEAUTY

Cutting and trimming grass is one of the largest and most costly maintenance activities in a Cemetery. The use of artificial flowers and wreaths on graves greatly hinders the grass cutting and increases its cost.

A. In order that our entire Cemetery may always present as neat and orderly appearance as possible it is requested that flowers be placed on graves only in approved containers.

B. Artificial flowers, imitation plants, ribbons, styrofoam designs, and similar decorations are not permitted during the mowing season, May 1st to October 15th. Articles made of concrete—urns, benches, boxes, etc., are not permitted, as such articles on lots greatly add to costs.

C. The placing of boxes, shells, toys, metal designs, ornaments, chairs, vases, glass, wood or iron cases, glass and plastic blocks, artificial animals, tin cans, crockery, waste baskets, pails, cardboard cartons, etc., shall not be permitted.

D. Winter decorations, such as natural and artificial wreaths, placed on easels, will be permitted from October 15th to April 15th.

E. Natural flowers will be permitted at any time, and will be removed when wilted. Potted plants will be permitted upon graves only at Easter, Mother's Day, and Memorial Day, and will be removed after one week.

F. Removed items of value may be claimed at Cemetery work shed. Your assistance in helping us to keep the Cemetery beautiful will be greatly appreciated.

NAACP Files Suit To Free Negroes

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People succeeded Friday in their attempts to start legal action seeking the release of 27 persons jailed last month while participating in civil rights demonstrations here.

Mrs. Ann D. Hunter, prothonotary of the Delaware County courts, accepted their petitions for writs of habeas corpus. A hearing has been set for Saturday morning in Media courthouse.

A petition also was filed for the release of the Rev. Clayton K. Hewett, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Atonement, Morion, who was arrested during demonstrations April 22 and 23.

Attorneys said that at a hearing before Judge Francis J. Catania Saturday they will press for the dismissal of all charges against the 28 demonstrators. They plan to ask for their outright release.

They said if this fails, they will ask for a reduction in bail and fines.

The Rev. Mr. Hewett, after fasting in prison since his April 24 arrest, was transferred this week to Chester Hospital. The other 27 are held in temporary prison quarters in the Media courthouse garage.

The Rev. Mr. Hewett was held in $4,000 bail on charges of unlawful assembly, forcible detainer, public nuisance and conspiracy. He also was fined $350. The other 27 were held in bail ranging from $1,000 to $2,000 on assembly, detainer, nuisance and conspiracy charges. They also were fined $350.

Texas Cattle Reach Penna.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A shipment of cattle from the King Ranch in Texas will be unloaded from river barges Saturday morning for trucking to Eastern Pennsylvania.

The 740 head of cattle arrived in Pittsburgh Friday after a 2,400-mile trip via the Mississippi, Ohio and Monongahela rivers.

This is the second such journey for King Ranch cattle. The first was made last October as an experiment to see if weight loss during rail transportation could be reduced.

Each steer gained an average of 70 pounds on that trip, so the venture was deemed a success.

The latest herd will be unloaded at Elizabeth and put on trucks bound for the Buck & Doe Valley Farm, a King Ranch subsidiary, at Coatesville.

Pest Control Course Planned

STATE COLLEGE — Penn State will offer a pest control technicians' winter course this fall. It will be the first time such a course has been given.

The course will prepare people for production, formulation, sale, and use of pesticides in the control of insects.

The program consists of four eight-week terms of instruction at State College. A six-months placement for on-the-job training is recommended for the summer between the second and third terms.

High school grads over 16 are eligible. Non-grads are eligible if they are 21 and have worked for a year in the pest control industry.

For applications blanks or information, write the director of short courses, Armsby Bldg., College of Agriculture, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa.

3 State Boys Saved At Sea

NEW YORK (AP)—Two canoes occupied by four Pennsylvania youths overturned in the choppy Atlantic off Laval-etle, N. J., Friday. One boy disappeared and the other three were rescued.

The Coast Guard said the missing youth was Jack Cody, 18, Hahoro, Pa.

Coast Guard patrol boats and two helicopters searched for hours and found no trace of him.

Cody was in a canoe with Michael Eisenhart, 18, Hahoro, when the frail craft overturned about a quarter-mile from shore at about noon.

A second canoe with Edward Delleyre, 17, Hahoro, and Peter Green, Hahoro, Pa., aboard set out from a beach to help but overturned in surf near shore. They reached shore safely.

Rick McCarthy, also in the Pennsylvania group, swam out and pulled Eisenhart to shore but was unable to help Cody. Eisenhart and McCarthy were taken to Point Pleasant Hospital.

Civil Rights Leader Heads Program

BUCK HILL FALLS — "Racial Justice Now," is the theme for next week's three-day Penn Northeast Conference of the United Church of Christ at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

The Rev. Alfred K. Stanley, a prominent Negro civil rights leader from Greensboro, N.C., will speak on the racial subject.

The UCC at its Denver Synod meeting last summer adopted a strong stand on racial justice and many churches and congregations have taken an active part in southern demonstrations. All churches are expected to be integrated.

Rev. Stanley is minister director of the United Southern Christian Fellowship Foundation at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College. This is an experiment in campus ministry at state-supported colleges with large Negro student bodies.

He is chief advisor for the Greensboro chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality and advisor to the North Carolina governor's special representative on civil rights.

He has participated in voter registration projects in various parts of North Carolina.

Another subject of special interest to area pastors and congregations will be the 1964 emphasis on the UCC on the problem of the central city church.

The Rev. William T. Longsdorf, pastor of the conference, pointed out that as people move from the center of the city to suburbs, the great need is for the former big city churches to become missions to attract the newer and poorer dwellers in the central city.

Youth Hurt In Accident

EAST STROUDSBURG — Ronald Kenneth McMaster, 16, of 728 Ann St., Stroudsburg, was in fair condition yesterday at the General Hospital of Monroe County.

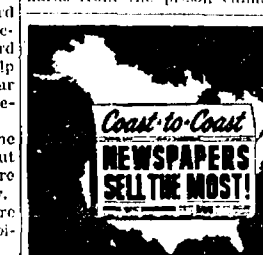

McMaster was involved in an accident Thursday at 10:28 p.m. He suffered a fractured right leg, cut forehead, cut nose and right arm bruises, East Stroudsburg police said.

The youth was traveling south on Courtland St., East Stroudsburg and collided with the parked car of George and Edna Mae Gordon of 123 North Courtland St. police said.

Total damage to both vehicles was estimated at $170.

Suit Filed Over Crash At Eagle Valley

STROUDSBURG — Carl Yetter of Marshalls Creek is asking damages not in excess of $5,000 from Mae Kressly of 234 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg, for an accident he claims she caused at Eagle Valley Corners.

The suit, filed in the office of prothonotary Frank Smith yesterday by Yetter's Attorney, Edward L. Williams, claims that the accident took place October 18, 1962, at 6:30 p.m. at the intersection of Rts. 196 and 209.

Yetter claims he was traveling west on Rt. 209 when the defendant pulled out in front of him from Rt. 196, causing him to crash into her car.

He states that his car was a total loss, and asks damages not in excess of $5,000.

Mt. Pocono Rotarians Hold Event

MT. POCONO — The annual Father and Son baseball game and dinner of the Mt. Pocono Rotary Club was held this week. Fifty men and boys attended.

Steve Kish, public information specialist, Pennsylvania Game Commission, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by John Spencer, Monroe County Game Protector.

The softball game which preceded the dinner was staged at the playground of the old Mt. Pocono School. The game was won by the juniors who were presented with a winner's trophy at the chicken dinner which followed.

At the dinner it was announced that plans are underway to establish a Rotary Club at Lakeside, in Monroe County.

The program was under the joint leadership of Berne Cramer and Mendy Rosen. The dinner was held at Mt. Pocono Methodist Church.

Surplus Food Distribution

STROUDSBURG — H. Ray Saunders, director of surplus food for Monroe County, yesterday said that surplus food would be distributed for May on the 12th and 13th.

He added that food would be given only to those who have made out a new application form.

Distribution hours are 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. People with from one to five in the family should come for food Tuesday, and people with six or more should come Wednesday.

Containers for carrying the food must be brought; none will be supplied at the distribution center.

Pike-Wayne Tavern Unit Plans Fete

MILFORD — The Laurel Villa Casino, Milford, will be the scene of the annual cocktail hour, banquet and dance of the Pike-Wayne Tavern Association in October. This was announced by C. Robert Fives, president, operator of Hotel Wayne, Honesdale, at a recent meeting of the banquet committee at Equinunk Inn.

The exact date, according to Lawrence Hoy of the Dimmick Inn, Milford, banquet chairman, will be decided at the next meeting.

It was also announced that Charles E. Emory, who conducts the Gouldsboro Inn at Gouldsboro, will be received as a new member at the next meeting to be held at The Alpine Tavern, Canadensis, May 17, starting at 4 p.m.

The tavernmen voted a donation for the American Cancer Society's campaign for funds, and also observed a minute of silent prayer in memory of the late Edward S. Maucher, general manager of the Billy Soose Mountain View Retreat at Tinton.

Following the May 17 session the association's members will be the guests of Allen Olsonmer, at a buffet luncheon.

Linda Does Research On A Cookbook

By Linda Elpher
Daily Record Home Economist
Stroudsburg—Writing a cookbook has been quite an experience with the hardest part being the selection of recipes. I was so cooped up with recipes day in and day out for about a month that I was even dreaming about them and any word but teaspoons and tablespoons was foreign to me.

Half the fun was digging up old recipe that I had forgotten about. One afternoon Mother and I went through the ones she's written down over the years and we laughed when we came across the recipes from the war years. So many ways to use canned meats—no wonder I haven't liked them since! There were lots of dessert recipes, too, substituting honey for sugar.

The book which will be out in June, will be a collection of about seventy recipes, family favorites and a few given to me for this column, all of which reflect the food of the area. Now that the typed pages are at the printer's I'm enjoying cooking some of those revived recipes.

One was for cooked red cabbage. As I didn't use the whole head, I had enough left to make this good salad, pictured above. It's crunchy and tasty.

Calico Salad
1/2 medium head lettuce
1/2 medium head Romaine
2 cups diced, unpeeled red apples
2 cups finely shredded green cabbage
1 cup finely shredded red cabbage
1 1/2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon instant garlic powder
1/4 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon elder vinegar
Wash salad greens and dry thoroughly. Place in a salad bowl. Arrange apples, green cabbage and red cabbage in rows over the salad greens. Combine instant minced onion, celery seed, salt, instant garlic powder, oil and vinegar. Beat with a rotary beater and pour over the salad just as it is being served. Yields 6 servings.

Vocational Guidance Leads For Adult Job Seekers

By Roberta Fleming Roesech
"Where can a woman in her 30s go to get vocational guidance?" writes a New Jersey reader.

"I'm asking," she says, "because I want to prepare for a job."

"But also," she says, "because I know, from my many conversations, how dissatisfied people everywhere go on for years and years wondering about vocational guidance. Yet they never seek it because they don't know what it involves or what steps to take to find it."

"If you'd write about this in your column, you'd help a lot of us."

First Step
To begin with, one step toward vocational guidance that anybody can take is to visit the nearest office of the state employment service. As a rule, this office will be equipped to offer vocational counseling or refer you to other nearby sources. At times it also provides vocational testing.

As another step, you can call your local high school and ask for the head of the guidance department. Naturally, this department is set up to counsel students, not adults. But the people in the department have varied backgrounds and experiences and may know of local sources that can help you.

Write Or Phone
Similarly, you can also write or phone a nearby college or university and see what leads it offers. In many instances, the head of the college psychology department is a good person to contact.

By all means—if you're a college graduate—contact your college or alumni association. Quite often both of these know sources of help. Also, many colleges today are especially interested in the woman in her 30s, ready to enter the job world.

While you're about it, explore every facet of the community in which you live. Sometimes churches or local social organizations have job clinics and guidance services. In other areas, a community service provides a vocational bureau.

At the same time look to your nearest city and see what's offered there. Today's reader, for instance, is close enough to New York City to take advantage of several vocational guidance organizations there.

One Suggestion
One worthwhile suggestion she might try—just to pinpoint one or two examples—is the free Man Marketing Clinic, open to men and women who need help in analyzing their background and experience, evaluating

Calico Salad borrows its name from the mixture of green and red ingredients and its savor from a touch of instant garlic powder.

We're all more salad conscious now that the weather has finally broken. Crisp salads seem to go with a Spring day, so take care of your greens by washing them thoroughly and storing them in the refrigerator, either wrapped in a linen towel or placed in your hydrator drawer.

But no matter how nice your greens, you have to have a good dressing. The Spanish have a saying that it takes four men to make a good dressing: A spendthrift for oil; a miser for vinegar; a counselor for salt, and a madman for mixing.

Maybe we should add a fifth man—an artist who adds a touch of garlic. Instant garlic powder adds that tantalizing whiff, but don't overdo it. Usually, add 1/4 teaspoon for 6 servings; sometimes it takes only a pinch as in the first recipe.

Here's a recipe for a very different dressing that is delicious served on lettuce—and how nutritious!

Cauliflower Salad
3 cups finely chopped raw

cauliflower
1 cup diced fresh tomato
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon instant garlic powder
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
Place all vegetables in a bowl. Combine sour cream with instant minced onion, sugar, vinegar, salt, black pepper, instant garlic powder and lemon juice. Add to vegetables and mix lightly. Serve on head lettuce.

There's nothing like a good garlic salad dressing on a salad that's to accompany a steak—especially that first one of the barbecue season, grilled on a charcoal burner. I'll bet this would suite your taste.

Creamy Garlic Dressing
1 teaspoon powdered mustard
2 teaspoons water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon celery seed
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon instant garlic powder
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1/2 cup salad oil
Mix mustard and water and let stand 10 minutes to develop flavor. Place in top of a double boiler along with salt, paprika, celery seed, sugar, black pepper, instant garlic powder and vinegar. Heat over hot water (not boiling). Gradually beat in the oil. Cool and refrigerate.

Decorating Courses Offer Landscape, House Plans,
University Park—The homemaker interested in landscaping and house plans or in home decorating may enroll for two courses offered by the Pennsylvania State University.
The home study courses present practical ideas for making houses more livable and homes grounds more attractive.
The complete Improving House and Grounds course features floor plans for convenient arrangements for kitchen and bathroom equipment. Whether a house is old or new, solution for storage problems are suggested with diagrams showing where and how to install step and half shelves, vertical files and drawer dividers.
The home grounds section describes how to grade and seed lawns and how to lay stepping-stone walks. It also lists the kinds of trees, shrubs and flowers to plant for attractive grounds. The complete course costs $1.50.
The home study course on home furnishings helps the homemaker make decorating a profitable experience even on a limited budget.
One section is devoted to color and their combination. Another part of the course has information on buying such furnishings as floor coverings, lamps, curtains and draperies.
The course also contains basic principles of furniture arrangement and picture placement.
Some good cooks like to use coarsely broken crackers instead of fine cracker crumbs in preparing scalloped seafood dishes.

Heiney's Hobby Measuring Snow

By Jim Shafer

West End-State Belt Reporter
KUNKLETON — "If the good Lord is willing I'll be 74 on May 22, and who knows I may be around for many more years," Claude Heiney of Kunkleton said yesterday as he sat in his back yard enjoying the warm weather in a "T" shirt.

Heiney is a retired railroad employee and passes some of his time measuring the snow falls each winter. "I've been measuring the snowfalls every winter since I retired from the railroad in 1958."

"Last winter we had 56 1/2 inches of snow, and that's a pretty accurate figure. I measure the snowfall in the back yard where the wind does not blow it around," he said.

From Nov. 30, 1963 to the first of the year, according to Heiney, there were six snowfalls. In 1964 there were ten snowfalls. They were: Nov. 30, one-half inch; Dec. 2, three-fourths of an inch; Dec. 12, three inches; Dec. 18, two inches; Dec. 23, seven inches; and Dec. 27, one inch.

1964 snowfalls were: Jan. 13, 17 inches; Jan. 29, one-half inch; Feb. 1, 1 and one-half inches; Feb. 10, one inch; Feb. 13, one inch; Feb. 16, two inches; Feb. 18, ten inches; Feb. 28, one inch; Mar. 12, two inches; and March 21, six inches, according to his record.

Heiney retired from the Chestnutridge Railroad in May 1958, after completing 40 years with the firm. He was a freight conductor.

"That railroad is the richest one in the country, for its mileage. Not counting the yards, there is 11 miles of track. It runs from Kunkleton to Palmerton and connects with the New Jersey Central Railroad.

"In my younger years I remember more than 40 trains running on the road everyday. Of course they were all short trains. Now I guess there is only one or maybe two a day, but they are long trains," Heiney said.

He is a charter member of the Kunkleton Fire Company, and a member of many years in the Trachsville Fire Company. He is also a member of more than 35 years in the P.O.S. of A. Lodge. "I'm not as active as I used to be but I do attend a meeting from time to time," he said.

In addition to measuring snowfalls he is active in politics. "Last election I was elected Committeeman of the Democratic party in Eldred Twp. Why I've been in politics for more than 40 years, and I'm not going to stop now just because I'm retired," he said.

In early life his two major hobbies were hunting and fishing, but "my legs gave out around 1933 and I haven't been hunting or fishing since. However at my summer home near Little Gap I have a small pond I stock with sunfish and frogs. Here I can sit and fish," he said.

RETIRED, BUT BUSY — Claude Heiney, 75, of Kunkleton retired May 1958, but he remains busy. During the winter months he measures the snowfall as a hobby. He is active in politics in Eldred Twp., and during the summer does a little fishing at his summer home near Little Gap. (Staff Photo by Shafer)

Reviewer Terms Current Art Exhibit At ESSC Fruitful

By Paul Hamel,
Assistant Professor of English at East Stroudsburg
State College

EAST STROUDSBURG — One of the most rewarding art exhibits to be held hereabouts recently is now on view at the East Stroudsburg State College art gallery.

The collection, comprised of work by local artists, has been arranged by Mr. George Johnson of the college art department.

Although oils predominate, there are excellent prints and photographs which have thoughtfully been included.

Nancy Liebhard is represented by five beautifully controlled paintings. Their expert integration of warm, muted colors and subtle forms are choice examples of the power of understatement in art. This sensitive artist's work is memorable both for its lyricism and quiet intelligence.

Three oils on a related theme — "moons" — and a parodic wall hanging assembled out of pieces of wood are Sterling Strauser's contribution.

Once again, Mr. Strauser reveals his facility for creating colorful effects, right down to providing satiric titles. The wall hanging has to be seen to be believed.

Loyalty to School
With five oils, Agnes Dyer

continues to manifest her loyalty to the abstract expressionist school even though it is currently in eclipse. Nonetheless, through torrents of color and movement of near-gale force, this artist makes her statements with great emphasis and spontaneity.

The four semi-abstract oils by Gloria Randolf indicate a powerful concern with dense, autumnal harmonies as well as the rhythmic juxtaposition of planes. Mrs. Randolf's "construction" in wood likewise shows an attempt to correlate angular shapes.

Jesse Weiss' nine photographs demonstrate this photographer's genuine understanding of the black and white medium. Whether working realistically through portraiture or impressionistically through winter scenes.

Mr. Weiss' textures are always rich and full of impact. Compositionally, too, these photographs are of very high quality.

Firm Grasp
To complete the show, Mr. Johnson himself has contributed six prints, woodcuts executed both in color and in black and white.

Regardless of their size, these productions evidence a firm grasp of the print medium, wherein, like all good art, nothing must be in excess, but especially so here, Mr. Johnson resolves each of his technical problems masterfully, whether he approaches his art from the abstract or the representational point of view.

The exhibit, which is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., will run through Saturday, May 23.

Club To Hold Ladies Night

EAST STROUDSBURG — Exchange Club will sponsor a ladies night May 11 at 6:30 p.m. in the Grace Lutheran Church.

This is the last meeting of the season. Gil Dunning, chairman of the recognition committee, is planning the program.

The club is inviting all Exchange Club members' wives to attend the meeting. Also, a guest or friend is welcome.

Nikita Takes Wife On Tour

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev will be accompanied by his wife, Nina, members of their family and a delegation of about 50 when he visits Scandinavia in June-July, the Foreign Ministry announced. They will come by boat.

Retiring ESSC Professors Honored At PSEA Banquet

EAST STROUDSBURG — The East Stroudsburg State College chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association honored two retiring professors during the annual Spring banquet held at Merry Hill Lodge Thursday night.

Honored were Miss Ruth A. Martin and Miss Catherine A. Reimard who have combined a total of 47 years of service to East Stroudsburg State College in addition to service in other educational institutions.

Miss Martin joined the staff of East Stroudsburg State College in 1931 as a librarian. She received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Penn State University and a Master's in Library Science from Columbia University.

Before joining the East Stroudsburg State College faculty Miss Martin had served at Penn State University, Patton (Pa.) Public Schools and Horseheads (N.Y.) Public Schools.

Former Head Librarian
From 1953 to 1960, Miss Martin was head librarian at East Stroudsburg State College and since that time has headed the cataloging division.

Miss Reimard, with a B.S. degree from Penn State and a Masters degree from Bucknell University, came to East Stroudsburg State College in 1948.

Before 1948, she served at Juniata College as Director of Elementary Education, Elementary principal in Hanover, Pa., and as a principal in the Sunbury Public Schools.

Miss Reimard has been the supervisor of the fourth grade in the Campus Laboratory School since 1948.

Additionally, Prof. Samuel Wallace, head of the East Stroudsburg State College Mathematics Department, paid special honor to Dr. Harry S. Wallace who is leaving the department this year.

Master of ceremonies was Prof. William Eden, the president of the association.

Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, the college president, presented the closing remarks of the evening's program.

Truck Almost Tomb For Trio

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—As Hugh Trimble, a salesman on a used car lot, stood talking to a prospect he noticed a slight sway of a refrigerator compartment on a parked truck.

He went over and opened the compartment door. Inside were three boys, exhausted and crying. They said they had ventured in out of curiosity and that the door locked behind them. They were trapped for three hours.

They'll be here any minute! As soon as I finish the flowers I'll go and sit with Dad on the front porch, so we'll be right there when they all drive in. It'll be just wonderful to see them again.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We've always been a churchgoing family, and I know the children never miss a Sunday even now. Tomorrow we'll all go to church together, and it will seem like the old days when our family was still here at home. We have so much to thank God for, every one of us.

1st Vacation In 38 Years For Steigers

NEWFOUNDLAND — Their "first real vacation" in 38 years, a 21-day visit to Europe, was worth waiting for, the Walter Steigers reported on their return.

The local couple flew to Paris by jet in six hours, and were met there by their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. John Steiger and Keith, Kurt, Karen and Kent.

They visited in Switzerland and Germany, as well as France, and missed a trip to Holland when they were six minutes late for a train to that country.

The reunion with their son, an employee of Vicks Intern, a firm who is preparing to move to Germany for a year after his service in Paris ends in July, was a highlight of the trip.

The couple returned by the northern route over Newfoundland where they flew low enough to see icebergs. The return trip took seven and one-half hours.

South Wayne PTA Hears Principal

NEWFOUNDLAND — Roland Seiler, elementary school supervising principal for the Wallenpaupack Jointure, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Southern Wayne Parent Teacher Association at which the Rev. Larry Lindennuth presided in the absence of the president, Elmer Becker.

Mr. Seiler and Dr. Dorothy Shenk, third grade teacher at Southern Wayne, presented a program on testing in the elementary school.

The nominating committee presented its report and officers will be elected on May 26. Guests at the meeting were members of the Hawley PTA. Devotions were led by the Rev. Denton Covert.

It was noted that a group from the local PTA attended the May 6 dinner meeting of the Wayne County Chapter of PTA.

Raughley On Duty At Ft. Myer

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Technical Sergeant James W. Raughley, son of Mrs. Ethel Raughley of East Stroudsburg, has arrived for duty with a Headquarters Command (HQCOMD) unit at Fort Myer, Va.

Sergeant Raughley, an illustrator, previously served at Anarillo AFB, Tex. His new unit supports the HQCOMD mission of providing logistical and administrative support to USAF Headquarters.

The sergeant is a graduate of Trenton (N.J.) Central High School and a former student at Anarillo (Tex.) College. His wife, Arleta, is formerly of Deming, N.M.

Shad In Delaware Starting Main Run

STROUDSBURG — The Shad in the Delaware, running about two weeks later than normal in this area because of heavy rains and cold weather, are due to start their main run through Monroe County within the next 10 days.

This is the report of Jim Hazen, district fish warden, who noted that "a few scattered shad started running last week."

He added: "The main run should be through here in the next 10 days because of the good weather conditions which has raised the water temperature."

This main run, he also noted, will continue for about two weeks.

The probable starting field for the 88th running of the $150,000-added Preakness May 16 will be determined Saturday when the returns are in from the Withers Mile at Aqueduct and the 1 1-16 miles of the Preakness Prep at Pimlico.

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Craig, a record-tying loser for the New York Mets, looks like a gilt-edged investment to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 33-year-old right-hander has a 2-0 record for the Cardinals and a handsome 2.25 earned run average to show for his work in six games.

"Craig has been outstanding for us," said Johnny Keane, the Cardinals' manager, before Friday night's game with the Mets. "He has won two games for us and also saved two for Curt Simmons. He was winning another one when I took him out against Houston and we lost it for Bobby Shantz 4-2."

"So far I have been using him both ways, starting and relief. Roger wants to do both but I don't know if a fellow can do that all season. I am going to start him whenever I can."

"What a guy he is. Never complains. Never moans about anything. Never says anything bad about anybody. And when you need him, it doesn't take him long to get ready."

With Craig a two-way man, Keane's pitching staff is shaping up. Ray Sadecki, a question-mark case, came through with a fine effort Wednesday night in Pittsburgh but lost 1-0 on a wild throw by Bob Gibson, working in relief.

Haas Quits Baseball: No Minors

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Bill Haas, 21-year-old first baseman who was one of the two players sold to the hapless New York Mets last winter in the "help the poor" draft, quit baseball Friday rather than be farmed out to a lower minor league.

Haas refused to report to Williamsport of the Eastern League, where he was assigned by Buffalo of the International League. Buffalo is the Mets top team.

"It's ridiculous," said Haas, a Los Angeles Dodger bonus player originally. "I don't need baseball that much to have to take this sort of thing. And I'll have no trouble finding a job."

The Mets picked up Haas from the Dodgers and Jack Fisher, a right-handed pitcher, from the San Francisco Giants in the draft, which was designed to help the Mets and the Houston Colts, the two expansion teams.

The Colts took only one player, pitcher Claude Raymond.

Both teams complained of the quality of talent made available by the other teams in the league.

Haas, of Pleasantville, N.J., hit well for the Mets in spring training, and was assigned to Buffalo to improve his fielding. He played errorless ball but collected only nine hits in 50 at bats for a .180 average. He failed to drive in a run.

Name Klausung Football Coach

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — Charles L. Klausung was appointed head football coach and director of athletics Friday at Indiana State College.

Klausung has been an assistant at West Point under Paul Dietzel. Before that he was freshman coach at Rutgers University.

A 1948 graduate of Slippery Rock State College, Klausung served as head football coach at Pitsburg High School until 1953 and as head coach at Braddock High School from 1954 to 1959.

Klausung's Braddock teams didn't lose a game, racking up 45 victories, and won the Class A title each year in the tough Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League.

Norma's Golf All Shook; Withdraws From Tourney

Associated Press Sports Writer

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Norma Shook is a blue-eyed blonde who discovered 11 years ago that she could whale the tar out of a golf ball.

She was 24 then, a North Carolina girl who lived in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains at Morganton.

Like thousands of others, she plunged into golf with a passion. In 1955, only two years after she took up the game seriously, the 5-foot-4 118-pound swinger reached the final in the North Carolina state amateur championship. Then she was a semifinalist in the 1956 Baltimore Invitational, medalist in both the 1957 Cook County and 1958 Chicago district matches.

Loved The Sport

She loved the sport, the excitement of travel, the challenge of new courses. In 1959, she became a pro.

But in the demanding pro ranks, where the girls drive from the deeper men's tees, she found the competition fierce. Somehow, although she still gave the ball a good ride, she couldn't seem to score.

She never won a tourney, rarely finished in the big money.

Last year, she slumped to only $552 winnings in 20 tourneys. At the Creed Invitational here last week she sat in the clubhouse after rounds of 84-83. She was 20 strokes behind Mickey Wright's pace, dead last in a field of 31 pros.

"A Sore Arm"

"I've got a sore arm. They call it a tennis elbow. The pain gets me when I swing," she said, running a finger along the tanned muscles of her left arm.

"Nothing seems to help." The tour moves to St. Louis Friday, but Miss Shook has withdrawn.

On last Sunday's final round here, she played with the only amateur in the field. Except for her caddy, not a single person watched her play.

Trenton State Dorm Named In Honor Of S-burg Resident

By Stan Schaffer
Daily Record Reporter
STROUBSBURG — A new dormitory at Trenton State College will be dedicated today at 10 a.m. in the name of Vernetta F. Decker, Stroudsburg resident and former teacher at the college.

She will speak during the ceremonies at Trenton State College about the college and the hope for its future.

Building Innovation
The six-story $15 million Decker Hall will accommodate 30 students and provide cafeteria service for 600 students.

Decker Hall is among four buildings that will be named — all buildings will be dedicated to living retired faculty members of the Trenton State College.

Located in Trenton, N.J., the college has a current enrollment of 3,000 students. The primary objective of Trenton State College is similar to that of East Stroudsburg State College, "to train tomorrow's teachers today."

Miss Decker became a member of the Trenton State College Faculty in 1926 and taught for 31 years until her retirement in 1957.

She taught speech and English — 10 years passed and she was asked to head the Department of Student Personnel.

IBW Elects Directors; Year Lauded
EAST STROUBSBURG — Members of the board of directors were elected Wednesday at the annual stockholders meeting of the International Boiler Works Co. of East Stroudsburg.

Morgan Hebard, Jr., president, reported a successful conclusion of business for the fiscal year 1963 and that prospects for the current year appear excellent.

He further reported satisfactory progress in product development and refinement to meet the needs of an expanding market for International's product lines.

The stockholders re-elected the following members of the board of directors: Clinton C. Boushell, Milton L. Greenberg, William H. Heagerty, Morgan Hebard, Jr., M. Russell Imbt, Jr., John B. Kingsley, Dave H. Morris, Jr., Joseph H. Small, Georg Stabenow and Edward H. Walker.

Elected as new members of the board were Walter C. Leonard of Stroudsburg and John F. Wade, International District Representative in Philadelphia.

The board of directors convened at the conclusion of the stockholders meeting. John B. Kingsley, a veteran executive of the company, there announced his retirement as chairman of the board. He will, however, continue as a member of the board.

The following officers were then re-elected by the board: Morgan Hebard, Jr., president; Georg Stabenow, executive vice president; M. Russell Imbt, Jr., vice president of Manufacturing; Clinton C. Boushell, vice president of sales; Michael Chaffier, treasurer, and William J. Palmer, Jr., secretary.

Edward H. Walker, of Ridge-wood, N.J., who has served as a director of the company since 1959, was elected chairman of the board. Walker also holds the position of vice president and manager of the Industrial and Professional Dept. of J. Walter Thompson Co. in New York City.

SP-5 Saxe School Graduate
BAD TOLZ, GERMANY — Army Specialist Five Herbert L. Saxe, 28, son of Mrs. Bertice A. Saxe, Route 1, Dallas, was graduated from the Seventh U.S. Army Non-Commissioned Officer (NCO) Academy in Germany, April 24.

Specialist Saxe received four weeks of rigorous training in leadership and exercise of command, map reading, the history of weapons and military teaching methods.

A radio repairman in Headquarters Battery, 1st Missile Battalion, of the 32d Artillery near Hanau, Saxe entered the Army in September 1953 and was stationed at Fort Carson, Colo., before arriving overseas in October 1962 on this tour of duty.

He attended Lake-Noxen High School, Harveys Lake.

His father, Herbert L. Saxe, lives at Mount Pocono Manor, Mount Pocono.

There are probably less than 1,000 Komodo dragons, largest of all living lizards.

Dean Of Students
She went on to become the Dean of Students and head of Student Life Department in 1937. In addition, she attended Columbia University to take courses in personnel and obtained her B.A. and M.A.

Miss Decker was born in Stroudsburg and attended school in Stroudsburg. She later went to East Stroudsburg State College for two years. East Stroudsburg State, at that time, was known as a two-year normal school.

She is the daughter of the late John M. Decker and Susan Brown Decker. Her father was a former real estate and insurance agent in Stroudsburg. He was active in Democratic politics.

Also, he was instrumental in supporting A. Mitchell Palmer, U.S. Attorney General. He also worked as a postmaster in Stroudsburg.

Her mother was a descendant of the Potts family. This prominent family was the owner of the house which later became Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge.

Christmas Stories
Miss Decker was noted for the wonderful Christmas stories she related to students at Trenton. She felt this helped to make everyone's Christmas a little more enjoyable.

What impressed her most in the time that she taught and lived with students at Trenton State College?

"I was greatly impressed by the amount of growth that the students attained in four years."

What about faculty at Trenton State College impressed you most?

"In working and living with the faculty members at Trenton State, I always felt grateful for the fair-mindedness — meaning issues were discussed, rather than personal ties. Everybody's viewpoint was respected."

"I am really looking forward to seeing the new building, as this will be the first time I have seen it since the students have been living in it," she added.

Dr. Roscoe L. West, president emeritus of Trenton State Teachers College, who was president when she taught there had this to say:

"She believed that students could be guided to appreciate the value of high standards of conduct. She strove to give them a democratic opportunity to experience satisfaction in following such standards."

"Her aim was to involve the entire college in a program of personal and social development. Her fundamental objective was that the college students ultimately enrich the lives of children whom they would teach."

Returns to Stroudsburg
Upon retirement from her many years of teaching today's teachers, Miss Decker decided to return to Stroudsburg. She said that most of her family — two sisters and relatives — live in the Stroudsburg area.

Miss Decker has also been active in Democratic politics. She helped to elect Mrs. W. B. Easton, the first woman ever elected to the Stroudsburg School Board.

Miss Decker is a member of the League of Women Voters of Stroudsburg; the Board of the Society of Crippled Children and Adults; the American Association of University Women; the Association for Retarded Children; the Democratic Club of Stroudsburg, and the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

WRA Plans Meeting In Wilmington
PHILADELPHIA — The Water Resources Association of the Delaware River Basin (WRA-DRB) will hold its fifth annual meeting and dinner at the Du Pont Country Club in Wilmington, Del., starting at 1:30 p.m. Friday, May 15.

The Association is a non-profit, impartial federation of over 500 citizen's groups and individuals in the Delaware River Basin that is devoted to the orderly development and equitable use of the water resources of the Basin.

The major item of discussion at the meeting will be the proposal to create a 60,000 acre National Recreation Area around the 37 mile-long Focks Island reservoir that will soon be built on the upper Delaware River.

The WRA-DRB has been informed that Congressional hearings on the bills to authorize the creation of the park will probably be held later this month.

The featured speaker at the dinner will be James Kerney, Jr., publisher of the Trenton Times Newspaper. Kerney has long been identified with efforts to control and conserve the waters of the Delaware River Basin.

The afternoon sessions, starting at 1:30 p.m., will feature progress reports from Col. Elmer P. Yates, Philadelphia District Engineer, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; James F. Wright, executive director of the Delaware River Basin Commission; and Everett L. MacLennan, project director of the U.S. Public Health Service's Delaware Estuary Study.

The public is cordially invited to attend the afternoon sessions at no charge. Those desiring to stay for the annual dinner may purchase tickets at the Country Club the day of the meeting.

Playhouse Inaugural 'Fair Lady'
MOUNTAINHOME — "My Fair Lady" will open the 18th season at the Pocono Playhouse, Monday night, June 15. It will co-star, Craig Timberlake in the Rex Harrison role and lovely Dian Seitz as Eliza Doolittle, the flower girl whom Professor Higgins, the speech expert, passes off as a Duchess.

Mrs. Rovena Stevens, producer-manager of the famed Pocono Playhouse has announced a limited two week engagement for this musical hit. After the Pocono engagement, Mrs. Stevens will send her company on an Eastern tour playing other major summer theatres.

Studded with memorable hits by the master composer, Frederic Loewe and sparked with lyrics by Alan Jay Lerner, the success of "My Fair Lady" has never been duplicated in the history of the musical theatre.

Opening in New York City on March 15, 1956, this great musical hit played on Broadway for well over six years to enrapture houses, a total of 2,717 performances.

The New York reception was duplicated in all the capitals of the world and in every major city in the United States.

Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times named it "... the best musical of the century."

The Pocono Playhouse box office will be open for the sale of season, group and single tickets, at 10 a.m., June 1. Mail orders are being accepted at Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome.

SD Woman, Mom Of Year
NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of a South Dakota college president was chosen this week as American Mother of the Year for 1964.

She is Cora Hjertaas Stavig, 63, slim, blonde wife of Lawrence Stavig, president of Augustana College of Sioux Falls, S.D.

She has raised four sons of her own and, in addition, in the words of the citation: "Foreign students from Hong Kong to Sierra Leone attend Augustana College and Mrs. Stavig becomes the foster mother of each of these."

The Mother of the Year is selected by the American Mothers Committee, Inc., from among nominees from the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Green Thumb Column Grows Fast As Plants

By Ray Erwin

Reprinted from Editor & Publisher March 14, 1964

A veteran of World War II, returned from three years overseas duty 17 years ago to trade his trigger finger for a "green thumb."

Since then, "The Green Thumb" garden column, written by George (Doc) Abraham, Naples, N. Y., has sprouted by syndication from a single weekly — the Danville (N. Y.) Country Express — to 80 dailies and weeklies with a combined circulation of nearly 5,000,000. "The Green Thumb is read all over" became Mr. Abraham's slogan.

"The Green Thumb" writer gives much credit for his column's growth to satisfied editors who recommended his feature to other editors. He also says it takes a lot of digging and sponging to keep his "humus" from getting stale among editors and readers.

"The Green Thumb" column is a cross between practical experience and horticultural training. Mr. Abraham (A Cornell graduate) wears overalls, pushes a wheelbarrow, totes a pruning saw before he starts punching his electric typewriter. "Doc" and his wife, Katy (who also studied horticulture and journalism at Cornell) run a small town greenhouse and landscape business. He believes that no garden columnist is worth his salt unless he has to wash dirt off his hands before he starts writing. This procedure has become a ritual for him every evening when he leaves his greenhouse to write his column and answer hundreds of letters from readers.

Last year, "The Green Thumb" pulled in over 100,000 letters and he hopes to do even better this year. One device which helps the Abrahams (two children, a boy and a girl who plans to enter the Syracuse University School of Journalism next fall) is his list of free bulletins (over 300 titles) on everything from making pumpkin blossom fritters to how to lick a mole (the garden variety). These bulletins, written by "Doc" and Katy, are sent to anyone who has a special problem. If the answer isn't in the bulletin, then they sit down at the electric typewriter (they have three in his cluttered office) and type out a personal answer. "Readers feel flattered when they get a personal answer to a problem that's been bugging them," he says.

Origin of Term?

One question "The Green Thumb" cannot answer is: "Where did the term 'green thumb" originate? Doc dug into a lot of books and raked over seeds of reports and still isn't sure. He believes the expression may have arisen as far back as Chaucer's time, when the early English poet (1340 or thereabouts) referred to the "golden thumb," that goldenly profitable thumb is the one that the butcher rested on the scales when he weighed meat. It is not too much of a transition to a green thumb that favors the more honest profit that comes to a grower of green things, Doc says. The term may have originated in a greenhouse back in Scotland, where people got green thumbs from handling mossy pots. The algae on the outside of pots leave a definite green stain, as any green thumb knows.

MIR. AND MRS. GREEN THUMB—George and Katy Abraham work on plants in their greenhouse, where many ideas for their column originate. New plants and pesticides are tested firsthand by this man-and-wife team.

40 Million Gardeners At any rate, Mr. Abraham feels it's unusual that the term so familiar to so many people, does not appear in standard reference works on the English language, and is even a newcomer to the Merriam-Webster dictionary.

Green thumbing is America's biggest sport — with over 40,000,000 avid adherents. In fact, more people are interested in gardens than sports. In America, more than 60 percent of the men have garden plots, compared with about 37 percent for women.

So far as Mr. Abraham knows, he was the first to use the term green thumb in his writings nearly 20 years ago. His "Green Thumb Garden Handbook," published two years ago by Prentice-Hall, has been selected by two national book clubs and has gone into its third printing. The "Green Thumb" radio program, originated over Station WHAM, Rochester, N. Y., 13 years ago, has been carried on continuously since by Doc and Katy, "Mr. and Mrs. Green Thumb."

In 1962, "The Green Thumb" was named No. 1 garden writer in America, by a panel of horticultural judges and editors in Chicago.

"Plants are like people," says the "Green Thumb." "Treat them right and they'll blossom." Mr. Abraham has been treating plants and readers alike with equal kindness.

Spring Brings Gardener Many Kinds Of Tasks

This is a busy time for gardeners but it is also a very pleasurable one, for it brings a sense of accomplishment as well as a variety of tasks in the warm outdoors.

If you haven't already fed your lawn do so at once using a fertilizer high in nitrogen such as 10-5-5. Apply it evenly over the entire area at the rate of about 3 pounds to 100 square feet. If you use one containing ureaform, a long-lasting nitrogen source, raise the amount to 5 pounds and make the one application do until fall.

Then, especially when the grass is growing rapidly or the clipping, are particularly long, remove them before they choke out the grass beneath with a good, steel-fingered broom rake recommends the Union Fork and Hoe Company, garden tool producers.

Prevent Crabgrass

Crabgrass seed usually germinates about two weeks after the peak of lilac bloom. So, if you haven't already applied one of the modern crabgrass preventers, do so at once.

This is also a prime vegetable planting period. Be sure the soil is deeply spaded, broken up, and raked smooth before planting. Then plant any of the hardy vegetables such as carrots, beets, cabbage, lettuce, kale, kohlrabi, radishes, and turnips in the northern states. Plant beans, cucumbers, squashes, melons, corn, and tomatoes from plants the latter part of the month in the North, the first part in the Upper South.

Shady Spots

Shaded spots always present problems. However, if you won't be content with a variety of greens from plants such as ferns and hostas, you can get a modicum of color with fancy-leaved caladiums, impatiens, and turbanous begonias — with crotons added in the South.

Shaded soils are often heavy, clayey soils, very poorly aerated and poorly drained. If this is the case work well into the soil 2 to 3 inches of gravel and the same amount of humus material (peat, leafmold, compost, etc.) before attempting to plant anything in it. For this purpose a good, sturdy fork works even better than a shovel or spade.

SORRY... THEY'RE SOLD OUT

Many of the EVERGREEN & FLOWERING SHRUBS varieties are sold out completely but we still have an excellent selection of yews, junipers, spruce and arbor-vitae as well as flowering shrubs left. If you haven't been in to see our nursery stock, do so soon. You like the excellent and usual Jackson & Perkins quality plants at Jim Canfield low, low prices.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Saturday, May 9, 1964
Have glowing ideas about what you would like to do? Better stop to consider all factors before going off on tangents. This will be a day in which to emphasize good judgment, zeal.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — A day of great influences. You can achieve through your winning personality and over enthusiastic attitude toward the better things in life.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Will for rest and relaxation. Planning ahead. Don't anticipate difficulties and you will encounter less. Work conscientiously and your perseverance will be rewarded.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Avoid tendencies toward indifference and contentment. Minor setbacks could turn things upside down. If not handled well, a little trouble could be the better thing in life.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — If work is on the docket, take it on happy stride. It is time for relaxing, new ideas, and new difficulties, "headaches" for tomorrow.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Be careful with children, pets, in travel, handling money, affairs. Be enthusiastic about all aspects of your efforts, may not succeed, may not fail, but produce the results for which you strive.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Your perception and intuition should be keen now. Get into the spirit of things and do your utmost, without care or substantial. Good news in the office.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Emphasize your ambitions and intense sense of humor. Handle all tasks and obligations seriously. Give whatever extra you can. It will pay you truly.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — While you keep a clear eye open for wild schemes, and desires to be tried, do not underestimate trouble or you will make it difficult for the good news to come your way. Some time off, if indicated.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn) — Intuition may direct you and assist your schedule, but you need that bit of hard work, hard work and alertness at all times.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius) — Especially favored now: home and business. Improve your organization, activities, social functions. Praise your abilities, work confidence and security.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces) — Some unexpected situations in the future, but you can keep them at bay. The generally smooth future could be upon you when the future could hold and work toward that end.

Vol. BUREAU TODAY: You sustain work and vision through your endeavor and keenness for the future. Your perception and intuition should be keen now. Get into the spirit of things and do your utmost, without care or substantial. Good news in the office.

March 24 to April 23 (Aries) — You are excellent at handling. You have a keen imagination. Be dramatic; Henry J. Kaiser, industrialist.

Exchange In Bangor Installs Aides

MARSHALLS CREEK — Earl Kressler was recently installed as president of the Bangor Exchange Club at the club's 18th anniversary banquet at Hedy's Hawaiian Room near Marshall's Creek. Edward Demansky was elected vice president. The following men were re-elected to the following positions:

David Finlayson, secretary; Paul Stiles, treasurer; and Dr. Charles Strout, Arch Doubleday, and Ronald Valetta were named to the board of control. District Gov. Carl Kratzer of Catawissa was the installing officer.

Rabies Kill 3 Persons

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—A rabies epidemic in the Figezi district of southwest Uganda has killed three persons. Eight others have been bitten. Officials said the outbreak came after 40,000 dogs had been vaccinated in a veterinary department anti-rabies campaign.

The bird population of the Everglades National Park has decreased over the last few years.

Chile-China Trade Talks

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—A Nationalist China mission has arrived here to negotiate a three-year trade treaty with Chile. The Chinese want copper, nitrates and fish flour in exchange for tea and unrefined sugar.

Destroyer Damaged

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The destroyer Decatur sustained heavy damage to her superstructure in a collision with the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain at sea this week. The carrier's hull was damaged slightly.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters reported no one was injured in the collision, which occurred 150 miles east of Cape Henry as the Decatur was moving away from the Lake Champlain after refueling.

Stassen Praises Seranton

CARLEISLE, Pa. (UP)—Former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen, in a speech here this week, described Gov. William W. Seranton of Pennsylvania as a "very able man in the Republican party."

Stassen, an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, told a gathering at Dickinson College that Seranton "should be considered" for the Republican nomination.

He said there was no solid public support for any one prominent Republican for the nomination because it was too early for the voters to reach a decision.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
